

CRC 1114

Berlin Mathematics Research Center
MATH+

Freie Universität

Berlin

Image via DALL·E 2

Impulses for the International Day of Women in Mathematics

11. & 12.05.2023

Thursday 14:00h:
May 11th (s.t.)

Special CRC 1114 Colloquium

Arnimallee 6, Room 31

Dr. Anna Ransiek (FU Berlin):

Why is math still a man's world? Possible explanations from an excellent mathematical research environment

Dr. des. Esto Mader & Dr. Nelly Mouawad (FU Berlin, MINToring):

Participating in girls' outreach activities: benefits for faculty

Dr. Agnes Lamacz-Keymling (TU Dortmund):

Sound absorption by perforated walls

16:30h:

Diving into Math with Emmy Noether

— A theatre performance by Portraittheater Vienna

Zuse Institut Berlin, lecture hall. Play starts at 17:00h, reception before and after.

CRC 1114 proudly presents a special theatre performance about the life of one of history's most influential mathematicians – who happened to be female.

The performance will be in English.

Afterwards, please stay for a small bite, drinks and discussions.

Please let us know you are coming until 04.05.2023 by registering via our website linked below or via gs-sfb1114@math.fu-berlin.de

Open to anyone interested in Mathematics!

Friday 14:15h
May 12th

Special MATH+/BMS Kovalevskaya Lecture

Takustr. 9, lecture hall. Tea & Cookies start at 13:00h.

Anja Schlömerkemper (Julius-Maximilians-Universität Würzburg):

Various Structures in Mathematics of Materials

Further information, abstracts and RSVP on our website:
www.mi.fu-berlin.de/en/sfb1114/diversity/Int-day-women/

