

The School of Mathematics and Statistics and SMRI Present:

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN IN MATHEMATICS DAY: EVENT AND LUNCH

WHEN: Friday 13th May, 2022, 12-2 PM

WHERE: F10A.01.106. Law Building Annex. Law Annex Theatre 106.

Are you interested in mathematics/statistics/data science and wondering about where it might lead you?

Would you like to hear personal stories from some recent and not so recent female/gender diverse USyd graduates?

Then come along to our event in honour of International Women in Mathematics Day, with:

- A viewing of the 20-minute film "Journeys of Women in Mathematics".
- Careers panel chaired by Associate Head of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Emma Carberry.
- Lunch and informal discussions.

Panel Speakers:

Alexandra Hogan, a Senior Research Associate in the School of Population Health at UNSW.

Steph Stammel, a Principal Econometrician at Transurban.

Fern Gossow, who obtained their Honours in Mathematics last year and will commence a PhD in the US soon.

Gabrielle Woodhouse, a Senior Meteorologist at the Bureau of Meteorology.
